

FURTHER SCHOOLING After high school Pearl attended Ricks Academy in Rexburg, Idaho, now the site of Brigham Young University, Idaho.

L to R: Mary Robb, Edna Jenkins, Pearl's cousin Lottie Robinson, Mary Miller, Pearl Bennett. A caption on the back of the photo suggests a possible reason for the unusual costumes: "Rexburg, Idaho April 1st, 1903."

Ricks Academy circa 1900. The town of Rexburg, Idaho would have been located about half a mile away in the direction the two buildings are facing.

Pearl's family living at home while she was away at school. L to R: Marie, Oral, Ray, George, Jeannette, Ida, Maude. Pearl's father was a miller and a builder of flour mills. This was the front side of a picture postcard that Pearl's younger sister, Ida, had sent her.

She wrote: "Dear Pearl, This is our Family. We had 10 min to get ready and Oral and I and just Been wet through, Ida"

Shelley, Idaho circa 1903
